$25 Reward; Cruise Ship and Bridge

To the person or persons who used a paint bomb to deface the rear of The Star Building about Monday night:

It will be worth $25 of The Star's money to anyone offering information leading to an arrest and conviction. And we will give equal publicity to any other Hope business sustaining such damage and posting a reward.

Breaking windows or daubing paint on business buildings is one of the more disgusting aspects of juvenile delinquency, and the business community should offer prompt and vigorous backing to the police in pursuing the vandals.

We have had similar outbreaks in the past, but they were years ago, and we kept after the vandals until they were caught.

We'll do as much this time.

A postcard from my youngest sister, Martha (Mrs. F. M. Gibson), of Sarasota, Fla., advises she has just reached Iceland beginning a Baltic cruise on the SS Statendam of the Holland American Line.

Mention of Iceland might cause you to speculate on whether she paused long enough to catch the chess tournament in progress there. My answer is "No." Martha wouldn't waste 5 minutes on a game of checkers, let alone the intricate and tedious maneuvering of chess. Now bridge is another matter. She and my other sister in Sarasota, Mrs. C. H. Yeager, were once bridge champions of the Sarasota area. About their brother—I suspect the SS Statendam is as much a floating bridge game as a cruise ship, and the only way they'd have gotten me aboard would have been in handcuffs.

Reminds me of the old days with Hope's Friday Bridge Club. The women played bridge—while the men retired to a back bedroom for a round of pitch. I wasn't there, Charley, but my agents reported in detail.

About that Baltic cruise, I am the only member of our family who hasn't been overseas. The nearest I ever got was in the Army in 1918. I was on route from a training camp to a six-week officers' school near Atlanta, Ga., for shipment overseas—when the Armistice was announced.

The others in the family went abroad as young men and women. I had the idea I would wait five years, make a niche for myself in business, then go abroad first class. But the further you go in business the less time you have for play.

If overseas adventure happens your way, grab it while you are young—don't wait for a more affluent day. Either you won't have the money, or you won't have the time.

Arguments in district case heard

Chancery Judge Royce Weisenberger of Hope heard arguments yesterday in the suit filed against the Hope Municipal District No. 5.

Weisenberger took the case under advisement and is expected to render a decision next week.

Seven residents of the district two weeks ago filed the suit charging that the Board of Assessors failed to assess the realty in a "fair, impartial, equitable and legal manner."

'Hey man, what's the beef?'

One of the bulls in the annual beef bull performance testing program being conducted at the University of Arkansas Southwest Branch Experiment Station casts a wandering eye as a special tag is attached to his ear. Sixty bulls from 24 registered breeders are being tested. The bulls are consigned to the station for six months for the purpose of determining the rate of gain and feed efficiency of each animal. (See article below.)

Beef bull program underway

The 11th annual Beef Bull Performance Test began Tuesday at the Southwest Branch Experiment Station of the University of Arkansas, with 60 bulls from 24 registered breeders being consigned for the six-month program.

Cecil M. Bittle, assistant director in charge, said the breeders consign the bulls to the station for the purpose of feeding to determine the rate of weight gain and feed efficiency of each bull.

In order to determine these figures, Bittle said, each bull is fed to capacity in individual stalls and weighed every 28 days during the test period. A degree of the performance of these traits are inherited, thereby enabling the producer to use the bulls or the herdsmen from which they came, to upgrade the performance of his herd, he said.

Over the years, Bittle said, this has the effect of upgrading the cattle, as a whole, in Southwest Arkansas.

Cattle farmers from this area who have consigned bulls to the station include Lacie Rowe (two Angus) and Ned Purdie (four horned Herefords), both of Hope; and E. W. Allen of Emmet, (one polled Hereford).

Bittle also announced that "This spring a group of producers and business men raised $6,000 to expand the existing 40-bull testing barn to a 60-bull unit." Marion Crank of Foreman was chairman of the drive.

Heading the drive here were Vincent Foster and Ned Purdie. Many individuals and businessmen donated to the project, Bittle said.

Property taxation methods slammed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The consensus that existing property taxation methods are unsatisfactory seemed to be the outcome Tuesday of a hearing held by the state Committee to Study School Finance and the Property Tax.

Billy Lindsey, a St. Francis county farmer, and state Rep. John Bethell of Des Arc said that the current taxing system discriminated against landowners.

"Try explaining to a farm owner that an acre of land worth $400 returning a rental of $24 a year should be taxed and that a $400 investment in stocks or bonds that pays a 6 per cent dividend or $24 a year should be excused from taxation on the grounds that it would be confiscatory," Lindsey said.

Bethell said that if counties taxed intangible properties as the Constitution required, the financial problems of the public school would be largely solved.

They were testifying before the 16-member state committee Gov. Dale Bumpers appointed to recommend solutions to current and anticipated problems of education.

One item that has been discussed by the committee is the possible creation of standards to determine whether a person can qualify for the office of assessor, which, applying a formula, decides the value of property in a county.

The valuation of property affects the amount of tax the property owner must pay, and, therefore, determines how much money is available for education, which relies heavily on the property tax for financing public schools.

Courts have knocked down property assessment procedures similar to Arkansas' system because of inequities and have declared unconstitutional the way that property taxes have been used in financing schools. The property tax has not been declared unconstitutional as a means of financing education.

Ross said that local voters through the election process determine the qualifications of assessors.

Representatives of timber owners and cattlemen told the committee that the property tax system treated their property inequitably.

McClellan confirmed committee chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Senate today confirmed Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., as chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee, marking the first time that a senator from Arkansas has attained the position.

McClellan, who faces Republican opposition in his bid for a sixth term, has served on the Appropriations Committee for 24 years and has been its ranking Democratic member since Jan. 28, 1971. He was named to fill the position left vacant by the death of Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana.

The Appropriations Committee generally determines where and how the federal government spends its revenues.

"I am proud to accept this honor on behalf of the people of Arkansas," McClellan said. "This new committee assignment comes at a time of increasing debate over our fiscal policies and our commitments both at home and abroad.

"When the next U. S. budget is presented to Congress in January, I shall carefully examine and analyze it with a view to reducing expenditures in any area where it is possible and practicable to do so," McClellan said.

Henry Kissinger

Kissinger's back from peace talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Kissinger is back from Paris and a renewed effort to break the Vietnam peace talks stalemate.

A White House spokesman said President Nixon's assistant for national security affairs returned Tuesday night from the secret talks with Hanoi Politburo member Le Duc Tho and Xuan Thuy, head of North Vietnam's Paris delegation.

Kissinger, who has made 14 previous trips to the French capital for private talks, relayed a terse report to Nixon before boarding an Air Force jet for the return flight to Washington. He will give the President a more detailed account today at the White House. White House officials and North Vietnamese spokesmen in Paris refused to discuss details of the talks.

Kissinger flew to Paris on Monday—four days after Nixon told a news conference "we hope to do everything we can to bring this war to an end" in the three months before the election.

Nixon also said then, "The chance for a negotiated settlement is better now than it has ever been."

But he said end-the-war resolutions in Congress are encouraging Hanoi to stall on productive talks. And, without mentioning names, he implied that Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern's statements on Vietnam are undercutting efforts to negotiate a settlement.

One aim of Kissinger's recent travels—he was in Paris two weeks ago for another round of secret talks—appears to be convincing the North Vietnamese they should talk seriously now rather than waiting the outcome of the November election.

But before the new trip, associates indicated that Kissinger was not optimistic on the chance of progress.

Tuesday's secret meeting was believed to have taken place in a house provided by the French government in the suburbs of Paris. The two-sentence announcement by White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said only that Kissinger was in Paris meeting with the two North Vietnamese negotiators and was expected to return to Washington Tuesday night.

Members of the board are Lester Kent, Charles Jones and Jesse Duckett.

Demo committee will begin debate Aug. 9

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newly expanded Democratic National Committee is expected to start debating Aug. 9 the selection of a successor to Sen. Thomas Eagleton as vice-presidential nominee.

Credentials Committee members appointed Tuesday have been alerted to meet as early as Sunday night or Monday to clear the way for the full committee to convene in midweek, said Helen Rees of Brookline, Mass., a member of the Credentials panel.

The national committee may start its deliberations even before all the states have named their delegates. Only a majority vote is needed to replace Eagleton.

DNC Chairman Jean Westwood didn't rule out this possibility in a news conference Tuesday but she said "most Democrats realize the urgency of this question and most are moving to select their members as soon as possible."

The task of selecting a running-mate for presidential nominee George McGovern fell to the committee after Eagleton withdrew Monday night. He and McGovern agreed that debate over Eagleton's medical history was overriding discussion of campaign issues.

McGovern is expected to recommend Eagleton's successor within the next few days, but the ultimate decision is up to the committee.

The DNC staff continued calling state party officials late Tuesday to urge them to speed up the selection process, if possible.

At that time, 18 states still had to choose at least one more committee delegate, and New York had to select eight, Pennsylvania five, Illinois seven, and Michigan and Texas three more each.

In Illinois, the process may have been slowed when a judge said Tuesday he would block the state's convention delegation from being seated at the state caucus to elect representatives to the national committee.

Judge Daniel Covelli, who issued an injunction against conventions seats for the challenge delegates led by Chicago Alderman William Singer only to have it overturned in federal courts, said he would issue the new injunction today. Covelli said the caucus seats should go to Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's rival delegation.

Challenges have shaped up in Wisconsin, New Jersey and Ohio as well as Illinois, and a total of eight contests are expected to develop.

But the big argument within the DNC hierarchy centers around who can vote when the committee convenes.

The Democratic convention voted to enlarge the DNC from 110 to 303 members and adopted a voting system copied after the electoral college. But specific guidelines governing which committee members can vote in such a case as the unprecedented withdrawal of a vice-presidential candidate have not yet been shaped.

South VN troops pounded by heavy artillery barrage

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces pounded South Vietnamese marines on the edges of Quang Tri City Tuesday night and today with more than 1,000 rounds of artillery, rockets and mortars, the South Vietnamese command reported.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the chief spokesman for the Saigon command, said it was the heaviest enemy shelling since the South Vietnamese launched their drive into Quang Tri Province five weeks ago.

Hien said the North Vietnamese also made ground assaults. He reported eight of Saigon's marines were killed and 28 were wounded in the shelling and follow-up attacks, and he said the marines killed at least six North Vietnamese.

The South Vietnamese command claimed that another 130 North Vietnamese were killed on the northern front Tuesday in fights ranging from the northern edges of Quang Tri to the western flanks of Hue, 30 miles to the south.

The U.S. Command announced the killing of another senior American adviser in the Mekong Delta last weekend, the second within three days.

The Command also acknowledged that two Air Force F4 Phantoms were shot down over North Vietnam last weekend, one of them by two MIG21s within 25 miles of the Chinese border. The Command listed the four crewmen as missing, but Radio Hanoi reported on Tuesday that they were captured and identified them by name.

Busing foes to vote on amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Busing foes in the House have won a long-sought chance to vote on a constitutional amendment designed to ban busing for the purpose of desegregating the public schools.

The Rules Committee, by a 9-6 vote Tuesday, took the bill out of a Judiciary Committee pigeonhole where it had been buried for nearly a year and cleared it for House action.

Rules Committee Chairman William Colmer, D-Miss., said he will call it up as soon as possible. That is most likely to be sometime next week.

But although a vote now is assured on legislation that ultimately would stop all busing, antibusing forces are still pressing for action on bills designed merely to limit it.

One of those measures, which would fix guidelines for the courts to follow in desegregation cases, was on the agenda of the Education and Labor Committee today.

It would prohibit cross-town busing of elementary-school children and severely limit its use in higher grades. Courts would have to rely on other measures, such as redrawing attendance zones, permitting transfers and building new schools, to overcome segregation.

A struggle is shaping up in the committee over efforts to add to the bill a provision authorizing $1.5 billion to upgrade the quality of education in ghetto schools which would be left predominantly black if cross-town busing were prohibited.

President Nixon originally proposed a similar provision—without authorizing any new money to carry it out—but it was stricken in a subcommittee.

Text of Eagleton's resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is the text of the letter of resignation sent Tuesday by Senator Thomas F. Eagleton to the Democratic National Committee:

Mrs. Jean Westwood, Chairman Democratic National Committee
Washington, D.C.
Dear Madam Chairman:

As you know, Senator McGovern and I are jointly in agreement that I should withdraw as the Democratic candidate for Vice President. Needless to say, this was not an easy decision for Senator McGovern or for me. Literally thousands and thousands of people have phoned, telegraphed or written to me and Senator McGovern urging me to press on.

My candidacy, however, has apparently caused deep divisions within the Democratic party, which already has too many divisions. My personal feelings are secondary to the necessity to unify the Democratic Party and elect George McGovern President of the United States. I support George McGovern and I'm going to continue working to see him elected President of the United States.

I therefore resign as Vice Presidential candidate on the 1972 Democratic ticket.

Sincerely,
Signed
Thomas F. Eagleton
United States Senator

Defense for Bremer

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — Defense lawyers for Arthur H. Bremer open their case today, faced with countering psychiatric testimony from state witnesses that Bremer is legally sane.

The 21-year-old Milwaukee, man has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to 17 charges stemming from the shooting of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and three other persons at a Wallace presidential campaign rally May 15 at Laurel, Md.

The state produced two psychiatrists and a psychologist to attest to Bremer's sanity Tuesday as State's Atty. Arthur G. Marshall wound up the prosecution case.

A defense psychiatrist, Dr. Sheila Hafter Gray of Chevy Chase, Md., also appeared briefly Tuesday with the jury out of the courtroom. She testified only long enough to establish doubt about Bremer's sanity.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

Modern Mother's Dilemma

Dear Helen:
My son and his girl friend are living together. Both are adult, away attending college part time, have jobs, and feel that "marriage should wait until we're sure."

I think this is somewhat ridiculous—when can you be completely "sure" of anything in life? But it's their decision and it doesn't bother me. At least, I've accepted it. I like my girl very much and wish she were my real daughter-in-law.

Here's the problem. "Accepting" long distance is one thing, but facing a non-marriage in my own house, where my own child is concerned, is something else. This would be saying to the younger children still at home, "Premarital sex is okay." I'm not THAT modern, or that sure.

Always before when my son has brought his girl home for short visits, they've had separate bedrooms, but now that they've told me they're openly living together (I haven't told the kids), they'll no doubt expect just one room. Should I play the hypocrite and put them in two?

Actually, it would be so much simpler if our "liberated" offspring were a little less honest so that we could all play the game of "knowing but pretending not to know." — KNOWING AND WISHING I DIDN'T

Dear KAWID:

You won't "play the hypocrite" if you tell your son and his girlfriend your honest reasons for their separate bedrooms. And I'm sure they'll accept them, just as you accept (though you don't understand or wholeheartedly approve) their no-contract partnership. You aren't avoiding facts when you lay down certain rules in your own home. You're simply saying, "I STILL vote for marriage!" —H.

But we exhort you, brethren, to do more and more, to aspire to live quietly, to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands, as we charged you; so that you may command the respect of outsiders, and be dependent on nobody.—1 Thess. 4:11, 12.

Hope to host tourney

Hope will host the State Little League Baseball tournament at K-Park August 3 and 4. The first game is scheduled for 6 p.m. Thursday when Crossett will meet Malvern. The second game of the evening, Pine Bluff vs Paragould, will begin at 8 o'clock. Finals will begin at 6 p.m. Friday.

Chess match ends in draw

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer inched toward the world chess title with another draw in a dull ninth game with Soviet champion Boris Spassky Tuesday. The score now is 5½-3½ in the American challenger's favor and the 10th game is scheduled for Thursday.

The ninth game "might actually be considered the so-called 'grandmaster draw,' since neither player made any great change from standard play," said international grandmaster Isaac Kashdan, analyzing the play for The Associated Press.

With a win counting one point and a draw half a point, Fischer as the challenger needs 12½ to take the title while Spassky must score 12 to retain it.

A maximum of 15 games remain to be played, and Fischer can lose one and still win if he draws the other 14. But Spassky must win at least two games and draw the rest to keep his crown. So far he has won only one of the first nine games in play, the first, while Fischer has taken four.

Playing first with the white pieces, Spassky opened Tuesday with his usual pawn to queen four. Fischer responded with knight to king's bishop three and the game developed into the Tarrasch variation of the queen's gambit.

"By the 14th move, most of the major and minor pieces had been traded off and, two moves later, everything was virtually dead even," said Kashdan.

On the 29th move the two traded pawns, and Fischer proposed a draw. Spassky shook his hand in agreement.

Sore finger or not, Jack is co-favorite

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Sore finger or not, Jack Nicklaus was, at worst, a co-favorite with Lee Trevino for the title in the PGA National Championship.

But Nicklaus, almost always the favorite for any tournament in which he competes, was revealing in the role of what he called "distinct underdog" going into the Thursday start of the last of the four major championships of the year.

A badly infected right index finger, which required some minor surgery last week, has kept him out of action.

"I really can't recall when I've been so poorly prepared for any major championship," Nicklaus said Tuesday after putting in only his second practice round on the 7,054-yard,

Padres sweep doubleheader

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nate Colbert performed a magic act in Atlanta Stadium but when it was all over, not even he believed it.

Colbert blasted his way into the record books Tuesday night with a slingshot baseball bat that hurled five home runs into the stands and drove in a record 13 runs during San Diego's sweep of a doubleheader against the Braves.

The five homers in the 9-0 and 11-7 Padres victories tied the mark of Stan Musial of St. Louis in 1954. The 13 RBI eclipsed the major league record of 11 shared by Cleveland's Earl Averill in 1930, Boston's Jim Tabor in 1939 and Baltimore's Boog Powell in 1966; and the National League standard of 10 by Enos Slaughter of St. Louis in 1947.

He also broke the NL record of 12 RBI in two straight games by Jim Bottomley of St. Louis in 1924, and Musial's mark of 21 total bases in a doubleheader.

Colbert, who now leads the major leagues with 30 homers and 82 RBI: hit a three-run homer and a solo shot in the first game as well as driving in a run with one of his two singles. Clay Kirby scattered seven hits in coasting to his shut-out victory.

In the second game, Colbert pounded a grand slam in the second, a two-run circuit in the seventh and his record-tying and breaking two-run homer in the ninth. The fifth homer came on a high inside fast ball from Cecil Upshaw, who Colbert said always got him out.

"I was shocked when I hit the fifth one," said Colbert. "I told the umpire at second (Bruce Froemming) 'I don't believe this.' He said 'I don't either.'"

In other NL games, Cincinnati beat Houston 3-1, Montreal edged Chicago 3-2 in 10 innings, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-4 and San Francisco trimmed Los Angeles 4-3.

New York and Philadelphia split a doubleheader. The Mets won the opener 3-2 in 18 innings, while the Phils captured the second 4-1.

Cleon Jones drove in all the New York runs in the opening game of the twinbill. He hit a sacrifice fly and a homer in the first nine innings, then smashed a bases-loaded single in the 18th to beat the Phillies.

Tigers suffer setback

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers finally got to come in out of the rain Tuesday night after umpire Frank Umont put a damper on their stalling tactics.

After a 51-minute rain delay in the middle of the third inning with the Milwaukee Brewers leading 2-0, the teams resumed play. The rain resumed, too, in the fourth inning as the Tigers fell farther behind en route to a six-inning 9-0 setback.

Despite the defeat, the Tigers remained 2½ games ahead of Baltimore in the AL East when Cleveland's Gaylord Perry blanked the Orioles 2-0 on two singles. Elsewhere, the New York Yankees battered Boston 10-4, Oakland shut out Kansas City 4-0 and Minnesota blanked Texas 3-0. California and Chicago were rained out.

In the National League, Cincinnati downed Houston 3-1, San Francisco nipped Los Angeles 4-3, San Diego took two from Atlanta 9-0 and 11-7 as Nate Colbert drove in a record 13 runs and hit a record-tying five homers, St. Louis beat Pittsburgh 7-4, the New York Mets edged Philadelphia 3-2 in 18 innings but dropped the nightcap 4-1 and Montreal shaded the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 10 innings.

The Tigers' fun started in the top of the fifth with Mike Ferraro on first base and one out and the contest five outs away from becoming official. Relief pitcher John Hiller threw to first several times with Ferraro standing on the bag.

Manager Del Crandall yelled to Ferraro to take a big lead and the Tigers promptly picked him off as he made no attempt to avoid the tag. Detroit Manager Billy Martin then pulled his anything-you-can-do-I-can-do-better trick and brought Fred Scherman in to pitch.

Ellie Rodriguez lifted a pop fly into short right field and it dropped untouched as second baseman Dick McAuliffe and right fielder Jim Northrup stood and looked at each other.

Rodriguez ambled casually toward second, just aching to be tagged out, as the ball was relayed to shortstop Eddie Brinkman, who held the ball for a while and Rodriguez had no recourse but to step on second base with a gift double.

All that exertion on the mound filled Scherman's spikes with mud and he slowly started to clean them. That's when Umont went into action.

With raindrops still falling on everyone's heads, he called

Norton to play for All-Stars

Lynn Norton, three-year letterman for the Hope Bobcat football team, left Saturday for Conway where he began practice for the West All-Star football squad.

Norton was chosen to play defensive tackle by the Arkansas high school coaches because of outstanding play during his high school career. He was chosen All-District 7AA tackle, All-Conference, Outstanding Lineman of the conference, All-State, and named to the Arkansas High School Super Team. He has been tabbed as one of the best defensive linemen in the state in several years.

Lynn will report to the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, this fall where he will wear the Razorback uniform to begin a four year athletic scholarship.

Norton is expected to be named to the starting lineup for the West Stars who will meet the East Stars at War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock, Saturday, Aug. 5. That game is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Colbert cracks five homers to match Musial's record

great Musial became the first player to crack five homers in a doubleheader.

"You know," Colbert said. "I was there when Stan hit those five in old Busch Stadium. I don't remember the exact day, but I know it was a Sunday. Stan was my first hero."

Colbert's one-man explosion powered the Padres to a sweep of the twinbill against Atlanta, 9-0 in the opener when he smacked two homers, two singles and drove in five runs, and 11-7 in the nightcap when he drove in eight runs with three homers, one a grand slam.

The display enabled Colbert to take the major league lead in both categories, giving him 30 homers and 82 RBI for the year. He said at the start of the season his goals were to hit 30 home runs and knock in 100.

His 13 RBI erased the major league mark of 11 shared by three American Leaguers—Cleveland's Earl Averill in 1930, Boston's Jim Tabor in 1939 and Baltimore's Boog Powell in 1966. The old NL mark of 10 was set by St. Louis' Enos Slaughter in 1947.

His 22 total bases broke Musial's major league standard of 21 in a twin bill set on May 2, 1954—the day Stan hit his five home runs. He also broke the NL mark of 12 RBI in two consecutive games set by Jim Bottomley of St. Louis in 1924.

Recent trades add to Chargers defense

SAN DIEGO (AP) — No matter what happens to the San Diego Chargers, no one will ever accuse Harland Sware of being afraid to make trades.

What remains to be seen now is how effective the San Diego head coach is in blending the talent he's acquired into a team that can challenge traditional powerhouses Oakland and Kansas City in the American Football Conference West.

Sware's four trades in the past two days brought to 15 the number of swaps he's made since taking over the Charger coaching reins with four games to go last season.

The players who have recently donned Charger uniforms have significantly bolstered San Diego's defense, which last year was third worst in the NFL in terms of yardage given up.

And the offense, which last season relied heavily on the fine passing arm of quarterback John Hadl, now boasts a legitimate rushing threat with the addition of Duane Thomas and Cid Edwards to a backfield which already features Mike Garrett.

At defensive end Sware has brought in veterans David "Deacon" Jones and Lionel Aldridge, while drafting rookie Pete Lazetich of Stanford. At defensive tackle he's added George Wright, Dave Costa and Greg Wojcik. At linebacker he's acquired Ed Philpott. He also has picked up Tim Rossovich, who can play any of those positions.

The defensive backfield is unchanged but is reported much improved under the tutelage of rookie assistant coach and former All-Pro Willie Wood. Sware named Wood to his staff.

"We've got weapons," Sware says now. "We've got an arsenal. That's all we want."

But the 41-year-old coach faces other problems. He's got to get the controversial Thomas to play and he must deal with the eccentric Rossovich. He may have problems with Garrett if the former Heisman Trophy winner finds himself on the bench.

The list goes on, but the cool-headed Sware knows what he's up against, and his comments on trading for Thomas probably sum up his whole approach to the season.

"Sometimes you've got to roll the dice," Sware said. "You don't always win. There's an old saying, 'If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen.' I like the heat. I like the pressure. It's why I came back to coaching."

Hope Kiwanis Club takes look at Hope in 1906

Crit Stuart III, a descendent of one of the pioneer families of Hempstead County, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting. He was introduced by his grandfather, Kiwanian Crit Stuart Sr.

Stuart stated that while a student at the University of Arkansas he recently chanced to read an article on Hope in the December 8th, 1906 issue of the Arkansas Gazette and was intrigued by it. He felt that with the Centennial Celebration of Hope coming up, the Kiwanians might be interested in the Hope of 1906.

Before there was a Hope there were three thriving communities in Hempstead County, Fulton, Spring Hill, and Washington, but by invitation and encouragement the railroad came to this area, and a depot was built in 1873, followed by the incorporation of Hope in 1875.

In 1904 Hope's population was 2,400 and in 1906, just two years later, it had grown to 5,000.

In 1906 30,000 bales of high grade cotton were brought to Hope from the farms surrounding the community and 70,000 additional bales were shipped into Hope by rail, no doubt due to the fact that the Hope Cotton Compress was located here. The quality of that cotton was so good that it was quoted on the Liverpool market.

In a period of just about two years 200,000 peach trees were planted in the area and the fruit sold largely through the Hope market.

Alfalfa hay was a leading crop of the day, and its quality was such that one producer of the county, D. M. Goodlet, won the 1st prize for alfalfa hay at the St. Louis Worlds Fair. Some poultry and cattle were also raised for the market in and around Hope.

In 1906 Hope had its municipally-owned water works, and a sewer system was under construction. The Post Office was handling an average of 27,000 pieces of mail a month. There were three banks in Hope. The Hempstead County Bank and Trust Company with deposits of $225,000, the Citizens National Bank with $280,000, and the Bank of Hope, now the First National Bank, with deposits of $150,000.

Stuart listed some of the major businesses of the day, one of which operates today under the same name, Hope Brick Works, and two others with only slightly changed names, Ivory Handle Company, and Hope Bottling Works, now Hope Coca Cola Bottling Company.

"In 1906 Hope was a forward looking community even as she is today", said Stuart.

Three speakers at local Lions Club

During the weekly luncheon hour Monday at the Town and Country, Hope Lions heard three speakers who told of two first aid training courses that are available to public service institutions and to industry.

Royce Pendergrass, program chairman for the day, and Coordinator at the Red River Vocational Technical School was the first speaker. Pendergrass told of the needs for this service and how it came about. When ambulance service was discontinued by funeral homes many towns either had to set up their own service or turn it over to individuals and just about all new employees in this line needed specialized training.

Recent federal legislation, the Occupational Safety and Health Act, put more emphasis on first aid training for industry.

Since the Vo-Tech school already had a nurses training program and space, and were dedicated to public service, a joint effort of community citizens got literature and equipment together for first aid training sessions.

Dr. Lowell Harris spoke on the longer, more highly trained. Emergency Medical Technician program for ambulance crews.

This training is required for all ambulance workers. This is an 80-hour course and there are three-hour sessions held at night. Mary Turner is the resident instructor and visiting lecturers come to teach in their fields.

Dr. Harris emphasized the need for prompt and efficient care at the scene of the accident before moving the victim to the hospital and said seeing that breathing passages were unobstructed and controlling loss of blood were the two most vital things to be done. He went on to say that trained people were needed for removal of victims from wrecks if fire or drowning demanded immediate action. Twenty two people are now taking the course and seven are from Hempstead County-four from the ambulance service and three from the Hempstead Rescue Unit. The others are from neighboring towns.

Sgt. Ray Davis of the Arkansas State Police described the eight-hour first aid course. This course has been developed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in cooperation with the Red Cross for their employees.

Multi-media, that is, film, lecture, practice and work books hold the trainees interest and hasten the learning process. Sgt. Davis has had the course plus additional training and is a qualified first aid instructor.

As more people become interested and take the course more instructors for industry will be available.
